WILMINGTON PREPARES FOR SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

The following excerpt from a Methodist Church newspaper, printed in Dec. 1901 was submitted to us by Mrs. Nina Barrows who says it may be of interest to members of the Congregational Church who are conducting their fair this week. This article pertains to the Congregational Church. "The Ladies Benevolent Society of the Congregational Church has been active in many good works during the past year, among other things the improvement of the parsonage. During the year, a fund has been established which amounts to nearly five hundred dollars. A complete renovation is contemplated. The renovated horse sheds are the outward sign of a new interest."

Mrs. Barrows explained for the benefit of those too young to remember, that during the time when this paper was printed (54 years ago) everyone drove to church in a horse and buggy with each parishioner having exclusive rights to one of the sheds to protect his horse from the weather. As Mrs. Barrows explained, it was a sorry day for any stranger who mistakingly drove his horse into the wrong shed.

FORMER CONGREGATIONAL PASTOR RECOVERING

Many members of the Congregational Church will be interested to hear that Major Clyde Martin who was striken with a heart attack on the same day that the president was is now up and about, and well on the road to recovery. Until very recently Major Martin was stationed in Washington as Chaplain in Command of Arlington National Cemetery. Major Martin was Pastor of the Wilmington Congregation Church when he enlisted. His career has been one that has taken him to all parts of the world. He was at Grenier Airfield until it was decommissioned. He served on Johnson Island in the Pacific and was at Tarnish Airfield Base in Sacramento where the wounded were evacuated from Korea.

$500 WORTH OF LEAD INGOTS STOLEN

One thousand pounds of lead ingots valued at over $500 were stolen from the Bay State Steel Co., Main St., on Tuesday night. While engaged in the transportation of valuable horses for show purposes, Joseph Grinley of Woburn St., had occasion to attend the National Horse Show in Madison Square Gardens last week. While attending this function, Mr. Grinley says he had a very pleasant experience. "Arthur Godfrey, mounted on his beautiful Arabian Horse leaned down to shake hands with me, a truck driver." "He really is a pretty right guy says Mr. Grinley of Mr. Godfrey."

DISTRICT CHAIRMAN OF GIRL SCOUTS SPEAKS UP

Editor:

I should like to take this opportunity to publicly welcome Rev. Richard Harding and the members of the Methodist Church as sponsors for the following Girl Scout Troops: Intermediate Troop No. 137, Brownie Troop No. 165 and Brownie Troop No. 207.

This is the first Wilmington group to sponsor Girl Scout Troops in our town and we are very grateful for this support. At the present time, there are twenty five Brownie and Intermediate Troops in Wilmington with a combined enrollment of nearly three hundred girls; many of these troops are without the support of troop committee members. I urgently request the parents of these girls to contact their troop leader and to volunteer assistance. Unfortunately, even twenty five troops can't accommodate all of the girls who would like to become Girl Scouts; more leaders are, also, needed. If you are interested in helping to support the Girl Scout Program in Wilmington as a leader, assistant leader, troop committee member or sponsor, please contact anyone of the following Neighborhood Chairmen: No. Wilmington Area, Mrs. Thomas O'Hare, Wilmington Area, Mrs. William Widger and Lake and Shawsheen Area, Mrs. Robert Robinson.

Sincerely,
Josephine C. Long
District Chairman

WRECKED BABY STROLLER SIGHTED

Word has got back, to the parents of little Bobby Baker, who lost his stroller on Halloween, that the carriage has been wrecked, and discarded, somewhere in the neighborhood. It is rather a sad state of affairs with two little children depending on such a carriage, for their fresh air, and trips to the store. It only goes to show, just how little real fun there is in a practical joke, such as this. What prankster can get any satisfaction out of wrecking a baby carriage? They know, if they have a grain of sense, that nobody, but a baby, needs it. And what fun is there in persecuting a baby? Here's one to think about.

BABY SITTER SITS TOO LONG

On Nov. 5, Saturday, Mrs. Bertha Paddock, of Grove Ave., consented to "sit" with the four little children for two young couples that she was acquainted with. Her own house, a renovated summer house was not too comfortable for any extra children, but, being known for her good nature, she complied. Saturday night wore on, into Sunday, and Sunday, into Monday. By this time, Mrs. Paddock almost forgot what day it was, worrying over where the people had gone, and just when she would be relieved of the tedious task of over-time baby-sitting.

Some time Tuesday, she was delivered a message that the two young families had decided to take a trip to Virginia, to visit relatives. It was un-planned trip, and they hoped, they said, that Mrs. Paddock wouldn't be too much affected, by the added burden of their four children.

They hadn' planned on sickness, which so often occurs, in the event of caring for strange children; but one of the little ones had contracted pneumonia, and had to be taken to a Hospital, and, at this point, Mrs. Paddock literally gave up, and called in the proper authorities, and got some relief from her tedious task.

The parents will have rather a difficult time, explaining about all this, but perhaps they have learned their lesson, and will never feel again, that just anyone can take their place, where their children are concerned.

HATHAWAY ACRES NEWS

The Hathaway Acres Association of North Wilmington held their monthly meeting Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Comey on Woburn St. Members of the Wilmington Planning Board, Professor Goodman and the Town Engineer were present and discussed the re-zoning of the Town. Re-zoning maps were shown to the group, after which an informal question and answer period took place.

Also discussed during the evening, were plans for sponsoring a Boy Scout troop. Foster Balser gave a short talk on the requirements and further discussion will take place at the Dec. meeting.

Monday night's meeting of the board of selectmen was taken up for the most part with preparing articles for the warrant for the special town meeting to be held on November 28 at the high school. This warrant will be posted on Monday, Nov. 21. Those appointed to act as tellers and checkers for the town meeting are: Kay Downing, Elaine Stickney, Rose Cavanaugh, Helen Gammons and Joseph Gilligan.

John W. Brock applied for a license to use part of the Moran property on lower Main St. for the rebuilding and selling of used motor vehicles. License was denied by the board.

John Elia, owner and manager of the grocery store at 365 Middlesex Ave. No. Wilmington was granted a license to remain open for business on Sundays.

The board received a letter from the American Legion Auxiliary stating that Wilmington is now included in the Boston Association for Mentally Retarded Children and that their drive will be conducted from Nov. 23 to Dec. 13. The Auxiliary would like permission to hold a tag day on Dec. 2 and 3. The board agreed to grant permission as soon as formal application has been made.

Mr. DeFelice received a complaint from Charles Allgrove of Woburn St., that a dog had kiled three of his chickens. Mr. Allgrove stated that he wants to be reimbursed. The board agreed to take action as soon as possible.

WHITEFIELD MOTHERS CLUB

The Whitefield Mothers Club sponsored a very successful food sale on Nov. 7 at the School, on the occasion of the Open House. The Open House was well attended by parents and friends.

TOWN MEETING NOV. 28th, MONDAY

On Monday evening, Nov. 28, the citizens of Wilmington will come together, in a time-honored custom, the Town Meeting.

Not long ago, there was a painting displayed, by one of our better known artists. It was a portrayal, with the mere strokes of a brush, of a small town, somewhere in these United States, at their meeting place. It was a picture that told a story that is not easily forgotten. One young man held the floor: He was not flashily dressed; just a leather jacket, and blue jeans, and he was half turned, as if to address the people behind him, as well as the Moderator. There were other figures, respectfully listening, while he voiced his plea. Here was a young fellow who felt pride in the small town wherein he dwelt. He had an idea to put before his fellow-man, and he was not waiting for the next fellow to do it.

So it is with any small community. This is the purpose of our Town Meeting. It is the oldest, and best kept form of home government. It is for you, the citizens, to see that it is never revoked, or that it dies out, due to lack of interest. The laws of our land are made at the Town Meetings throughout the country.

At our Town Meeting, on the 28th, there will be much of interest, to be discussed; most vitally important, the new Zoning Laws. There are citizens who are well pleased with the expected revisions and there are people, and rightfully so, who are not. This is everybody's chance to speak, or to abide by the rule of the majority. If yours is in the minority, at least you may be able to say that you tried, that you were there, that you did what you honestly could, to make them see your side of things. That, my friend, is a much more comfortable feeling, than if you hadn't tried at all.

In years that have gone before, houses were built when, and where there was land to build them. And, at times, it was found that they were built on land that was still under question. There will be builders to voice a protest, at the 200 ft. frontage that is required in the more isolated districts, and there will be people who feel that it is allright. How do you feel? Will you be there to let them know? These men have been brought in, at the expense of you, the Taxpayer, to zone this land, and to mark it off, either as a residential section, or a business section. Be on hand, at the high school auditorium, on Monday, the 28th, and let yoursef in on the first hand information, concerning you, and the land you intend to live on, the future building that you intend to carry through. Be there, or forever hold your peace.

RIDING THE BENCH
By Howard Iverson
Heavyweight Class In Sad Shape
Sox Hold Edge In Recent Trade

The Heavyweight division, once the pride of the boxing world, has degenerated to the lowest depths of its long and colorful history. Latest ratings of the fistic kingdom's upper class more than bear out this contention. Listed as number one challenger to Rocky Marciano's crown is Bob Baker, the giant Negro fighting out of Philly. Number one challenger? Hah! Baker's big claim to fame seems to be two decisions over Rex Laylne; an over-stuffed cub fighter. Whipping Layne is no great feat. Other than that, Baker has been beaten by Archie Moore and K.O.'d by Jimmy Slade. A few years ago Big Bob wouldn't have rated a crack at the number ten challenger, never mind being listed in the ratings himself.

After Baker comes Nino Valdes, who recently dropped a decision to glass-jawed Bob Satterfield. Satterfield knocked Nino down in the ninth round of that bout. Valdes has beaten Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, but lost to Archie Moore before that. Although Cuban Heavyweight champ, Valdes is nothing but a crude, lumbering mauler, built along the lines of another famous South American Heavyweight, Louis Firpo, but with much less ability.

"Hurricane" Jackson, the colorful whirl-wind from Far Rockaway, New Jersey, is next on the list. Jackson has lost twice to Lightweight Jimmy Slade and once to Nino Valdes, via a K.O. Although very fast with both feet, "The Hurricane" lacks a solid punch and is easily hurt.

Further down on the list of would-be challengers, ninth to be exact, is the joker in the deck . . . Pudgy Rex Layne, the Utah Playboy. The placing of Layne in the ratings makes a mockery of the whole division. Rowdy Rex, as he was once called, has been beaten by six of the ten ranking challengers. He's been K.O'd four times in the past year and has managed to eke out only two decisions in his last seven fights. Twenty pounds overweight and a "bleeder" (cuts easily), Layne has become a walking punching bag of late. The very fact that he is even considered as a challenger is a reflection on the condition of the Heavyweight division.

Has-been Ezzard Charles and never-was Earl Walls are also rated among the top Ten, as are inexperienced club fighters Harold Carter, Johnny Summerlin and John Holman. Mexican Julio Mederos rounds out the list.

Never before in the history of the Heavyweight division has there been such a famine of good fighters. Even the champ, Rocky Marciano, is a poor representative of the supposed upper crust of the boxing world. Concerning Rocky: we've said it before and we'll say it again — Marciano is one of the poorest champions to ever rule the roost.

The only possible salvation of professional boxing in this country is the establishment of more independent fight clubs along the lines of the Boston Garden production of Sam Silverman. Fighters of the Tony DeMarco, Floyd Patterson and Frankie Ryff caliber - champs of the future - are developed in the small fight clubs from coast to coast and the gradual surrender of these independent clubs to the I.B.C. will eventually mean the downfall of boxing. Fistic fans aren't going to continue to pay their hard-earned cash to watch I.B.C.-bred bums posing as champions. A day of reckoning is at hand.

Recent Trade To Aid Sox

The recent Red Sox acquisition of former Senators Mickey Vernon and Bob Porterfield was a smart move on the part of the Bosox front office. Vernon, two-time American League batting champion, and Porterfield, one of the Junior Circuit's top hurlers, are sure to help the Sox for a couple of years, while the youngsters that Washington received in the trade will never be missed. Curtis, Brodowski and Clevenger have never proved themselves as major league pitchers and the Hose have a surplus of outfielders without Olson and Chrisley.

With Vernon around to take care of first base, the Sox are in a position to trade either Norm Zauchin or Dick Gernert. It's a cinch that they won't have three first basemen on the roster next year. There's also rumor about that Jackie Jensen is on way out. Jensen and either Gernert or Zauchin would make great trade bait. Tommy Umphlett and Faye Throneberry could fight it out for the right field berth if Jackies goes.

If all of the 2,000,000 pounds of weld metal used on the gigantic new aircraft carrier USS Forrestal was ¼-inch size it would extend a distance of 2,400 miles or from Newport News, Va. to San Francisco.

Each of the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal's four propellers measure more than 22 feet or the height of a two-story dwelling.

TRAVEL TIP: When you're driving in a strange state, play it safe by driving conservatively, the AAA suggests. Don't overtake another car by passing to the right; signal your turn; drive within posted speed limits; yield the right-of-way to cars on your RIGHT. Your out-of-state plate may excuse you the first time you make a mistake, but don't count on it

TRAVEL TIP: While summer still tops all other seasons for vacations, the autumn months including November have climbed to second place in popularity, says the AAA. Lower prices, fewer crowds, easier traveling, bracing weather - all account for the lure of all vacations.

The aircraft carrier USS Forrestal will carry a crew of 3,500 officers and enlisted men. The ship is expected to commence fleet operations in early 1956.

There were 200,000 rivets used in construction of the USS Forrestal. The Navy aircraft carrier is the largest ever built.

SAFETY TIP: No matter how good your brakes are, the AAA says it still takes you about three-quarters of a second to get your foot on the brake pedal AFTER you see the danger. In this time your car, at thirty miles an hour, will travel thirty-five feet BEFORE you can apply the brake. Leave an adequate MARGIN FOR SAFETY in front of you.

The total area of the USS Forrestal's flight deck is nearly four acres. The new warship will commence activities with naval forces afloat in early 1956.

BOSTON AND MAINE MAKES WORLD RECORD

The purchase of three more Budd Highliner passenger cars by the Boston and Maine Railroad at a cost of half a million dollars was announced today by Loyd J. Kiernan, executive vice president of the road. The cars were bought when the railroad learned they were available for immediate delivery from the Budd Company and will be the last deliveries for some time.

This order when delivered will give the railroad a total expenditure of ten and one-half million dollars for the fleet. The Boston and Maine now has the largest fleet of these deluxe cars of any railroad in the world.

Delivery of the new cars is expected during the latter part of this month. On arrival they will be put into service at once, making runs over various parts of the Boston and Maine system, replacing the older type of conventional trains.

THE ARMY PROMISES WITH A WRITTEN GUARANTEE

M/Sgt. James G. Everett local U.S. Army Rctg. station commander states the United States Army is now offering High School graduates a "written guarantee" of attendance at the Aviation Course of their own choosing.

The Army will train young men with no previous experience as mechanics and maintenance men for its stepped-up flying program. Army aircraft, both fixed-wing and helicopters are used for observation purposes and other forms of air-ground liaison.

There is a great demand for trained aircraft mechanics in the Army, thus splendid chances for advancement are available. By assuring themselves a career with a bright future, these young men will also help our country strong.

All interested young men should contact either Sgt First Class Edward D. Daly or Sgt. First Class Paul G. Francoeur at the following address: U.S. Army Rctg. Station, Veterans Adm. Bldg. 89 Appleton St., Lowell, GL 9-9300.

HONOR VETERANS

Some commendation should be given to the group of patriotic, civic minded men who conducted the very impressive memorial service at the soldiers lot on Veteran's Day.

Among this group were members of the Legion. D. A.V. and V.F.W. who in spite of the damp morning and lack of attendance marched dauntlessly into the soldiers lot and placed their wreath on the monument.

Father Regan was present to offer a prayer, appropriate speeches were given, the firing squad fired a salute and Taps were played by boy scouts. It would have taken any of our citizens only a few minutes to attend this ceremony and we were sorry to see such a lack of interest displayed.

Congratulations anyway boys, the small attendance did nothing to deter your patriotic spirit and those of us who did attend enjoyed doing so very much.

FORCED OFF ROAD

At approximately 2:30 A. M. on Friday, Nov. 11, an automobile operated by Roland E. LaFreniere of Southerland St., Lowell went out of control while traveling north on Main St., Wilmington. Extensive damage was done to the right side of the car when it struck several guide posts near Cross St.

Mr. LaFreniere claims to have been forced off the road by another driver. It was snowing at the time and poor road conditions sent his vehicle into a skid when he swerved to give the other car room to pass.

Officer Imbimbo investigated the accident.

"What's in the package, Daddy?"

"Looks like a great big box of nothing from here. You say it's Faith, Daddy? And we thought it was going to be a present!"

It is a present—the finest you can give—the one legacy every parent can provide on one dollar a year or a million.

The faith of children once founded is lasting and hard to shake. The other things you can give them are all to the good. But even the most carefully planned annuities and insurance are not designed for drying a tear . . . for strengthening faint hearts . . . for bolstering principles which all the world seems determined to crack.

Worship with them this week at your church or synagogue. Give them a faith to live by—that priceless "nothing" which can never be seen, never be touched . . . and never be taken away.

Give them a Faith to live by Worship with them this week

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SALES DAYS WILL CLIMAX IN DRAWING OF BOND IN READING

It starts Thursday!—the Chamber of Commerce's town-wide "Shop in Reading Sale."

During this week, all householders in Reading, and in adjoining communities as well received through the mail circulars announcing the event and listing advertisements of various participating merchants and businessmen. Norman Gurta, sales committee chairman and proprietor of the Children's Shop, stated that the circulars ordered from a Boston direct-mailing house were put into circulation by mail from Reading Post Office.

The sale — starting Thursday will continue through Saturday — will be climaxed with the awarding of $250 in U.S. Savings Bonds to the holder of a lucky ticket-stub, the other half of which will be drawn from a barrel publicly.

Chairman Gurta said that arrangements have been made for the drawing of the grand prize to be held in Security Hall, Woburn St., on Saturday evening, Nov. 19, at 5:30 o'clock, and will be the main feature of the "Shop-in-Reading" Sale. In conjunction with the drawing of the prize, a cake sale will be held by various church organizations during the morning and afternoon.

In addition to the grand prize award, each participating member-merchant will offer "door-prizes" of value to persons who visit the various stores. Some stores have arranged for several individual prizes of value. In addition, numerous bargains will be available to the buying public.

Chairman Gurta, who has spent a great part of his time arranging details of the sales event, doing this, that and everything to make the undertaking a success, has been given great cooperation by other members of his committee, which includes: Sidney Rubin, head of the Atlantic Food Mart, Ted Vernon of Eugene's Shop and Francis Whithed of Francis Brothers.

So don't forget — patronize your local merchants this weekend. There'll be plenty of bargains, numerous prizes to the lucky ones, and to top it all off just think of the $250 in U.S. Savings Bonds—the grand prize! See you around town, Thursday, Friday or Saturday — Nov. 17, 18, or 19 — or perhaps on all three days in Reading.

CHAPIN CHATTER

I was thinking New England is the only part of the country where hot water and steam heating systems are installed to any great extent. In all other parts of the country it is very unusual to see anything but warm air systems. New Englanders are said to be different than people in the middle west, the west, or the south, and the way they say, different, it indicates that we're a little behind the times. We are different, but, not that way. We're more conservative, and therefore, not so apt to rush into new things until they have proved to be superior.

That has been true of warm air heating. Until recently warm air heating was drafty, dusty, too hot or too cold but now the industry has grown up, and are installing air systems so that they will do the same job that hot water heating systems have been doing for so many years.

The heat is placed at the outside walls where it will blanket the cold walls and windows. The controls are adjusted so that there is continuous heat not hot and cold as before. The air is filtered, moisture is added to prevent furniture from drying out and falling apart, the air can be sterilized, and cooling can be added if you want.

Added to all these advantages, it is the least expensive to install, and the fuel bills are much, much less than with any other type of heating system.

Ask Mel Crosby of 50 Middlesex ave., Reading, what he thinks of his warm air system and then see us at 42 Haven Street, REading 2-3290.
